Greenville Sun: "Mrs. Elmer Buck was killed by bolt of lightning at her home at Taskee during the electrical storm which passed over this section last Monday evening. Mrs. Buck, whose maiden name was Ruble, had been married only about two months. She and her young husband had just moved into the home, were told, and were arranging the furniture. Mrs. Buck was making up a bed when she was struck. Her husband, who was in the same room, was unharmed. The body was sent to Des Arc, the girlhood home of Mrs. Buck, for burial."

The Collins family was somewhat surprised Sunday evening about 9:00 o'clock when Mr. C.'s grandson, Ernest Homan, from Marquand, Mo., drove up in a new Maxwell car. The young people with him were Mr. C.'s two daughters, Mae and Ina, his granddaughter, Etta Homan, and his wife, and Etta White. The young people were just out for a little ride and drove up to Fredericktown and about 8:30 decided to come to Ironton. They arrived here about 9:00 o'clock and left about twelve that night. They arrived in Marquand about 4:00 next morning. Some trip in such a short time.

Kaufman, Smith, Emert & Co., who were awarded the $15,000 Ironton High School bonds, June 23d, have notified the school board that their attorney has refused to approve the issue, and their proposition is withdrawn. The reasons given by the attorney for his action are failure to provide a voting place in Arcadia, and, further, that while the proposition was carried by a two-thirds vote of those participating in the election, the constitutionality of the bonds was not ratified by two-thirds of all the voters of the district, whether participating in the election or not. This latter proposition has long been a mooted question. The board is now endeavoring to dispose of the bonds to local parties and hopes to be successful in the effort. But the delay is vexatious.

Rev. A. B. Hobbs told The News last night that the number of conversions at the Burk-Hobbs revival had reached the 100-mark and that the interest was fine. He predicted that the meetings here would prove one of the most successful they had held for some time. Steve Burk continues to preach stirring sermons, as his subjects would indicate. About 1200 men and boys heard his famous lecture on "Leaving the Old Home" at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon, and when the question was put for all who had been benefited by the lecture to stand the vast audience stood almost as if one man. Rev. Burk likened his personal experience to that of the Prodigal Son as related by parable of the Savior. Sunday night it was estimated that 3000 heard his sermon on "The Devil and His Razor."—Farmington News.

Mr. Robb stopped over in Farmington yesterday from Fredericktown. He says he spent three days in Madison county and attended three celebrations at Marquand, Fredericktown and Mine La Motte on the Fourth, making speeches at the first two. Last week he made a canvass of Bollinger. Mr. Robb reports that he met a large number of the Democrats in these counties, and is very much encouraged with the situation in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Congress. By the assurances of support which he received in these counties, and in receiving throughout the district, he thinks his chances for the nomination have grown steadily and feels reasonably sure of success. He says he will continue his campaign actively until August 1st, and that time will have thoroughly covered the district.—Farmington Times.

Reproduced from Sunday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The Arcadia Heights company, composed of a number of St. Francois County business men, with a St. Louis office at 211 Title Guaranty Building, purchased 600 acres of land on Arcadia Heights. This tract adjoins the Missouri-Baptist Association grounds, which is last becoming a popular summer resort in Missouri. The land is subdivided and being sold in lots at $25 each, and will appeal to those who wish to own a plot of ground where they can spend the hot summer months at a very small cost. Rent life has become very popular and gives a new lease on life. Arcadia Heights is ninety miles from St. Louis, on the Iron Mountain Railroad. A good automobile road known as the St. Louis-Arcadia Highway, is used by many St. Louis people weekly, who own beautiful homes in the Arcadia country—the most picturesque, healthful place in all Missouri."

The Iron County Teachers' Association, which was in session in Ironton Friday and Saturday last, was well attended and the program excellently rendered. The meeting was characterized as a success in every way. An address Saturday morning on "The Principles of Reading," by Prof. L. W. Rader, principal of Columbia School, St. Louis, was well worth hearing and captivated the teachers all. Hon. O. L. Manger of Piedmont also made an entertaining talk. The following teachers were in attendance on the association: J. L. Hickman, Brunot, Omer, Graniteville, Josie Orlick, Fred Orlick, Myrtle Orlick, Middlebrook, Artilla Jones, Mrs. Essie Pettile, R. E. Marshall, Mrs. R. E. ### ON MT. ASSEMBLY.

Saturday the Epworth Leaguers from St. Louis, sixty strong, came down on a special train, and camped at St. Louis. Others joined them from the country Leagues until fifty tents were soon occupied. Of course others, members of the Assembly and visitors, have been arriving ever since.

Many think the first Vesper service the very best they ever attended. The numbers put on were surprising, and were by Dr. Abbot, of St. Louis, Sunday morning, and the address of Sin Beam, of Kansas City, were the ones that drew the demonstrations of applause. Dr. Abbot's sermon on "Courage" was a strong plea for brave men and women. Bro. Bevel was a most courteous and pleasant on all manner of worldliness in the church.

The old officers were re-elected: An Epworth Cottage to cost $1,500 was voted unanimously. A committee on raising the money reported $350 secured by private subscription. The two tents in which the Cottage will be built are donated by friends of the Assembly. A conservation meeting was held, closing the League Conference.

The Assembly proper opened with a concert by Barroll's Orchestra. The program for the present week promises a rare treat for the Valley folks.

Des Arc Items.

I attended the meeting Thursday night when Hon. A. S. Lehr made a speech in behalf of J. M. Atkinson for Governor. I was surprised to see so few present—only 35—and some of them were Gardner men. The gentleman gave Mr. Atkinson a fine record and spoke very favorably of Mr. Gardner. He said that Mr. Gardner was a successful business man, but the Democrats did not want a business man; they wanted a statesman like J. M. Atkinson. A business man is what we want, some one who can straighten our financial troubles, for unless something is done in the future, our state will go to the bad financially. I have read the exchanges in nearly every town in Southern Missouri and two-thirds of them endorse Gardner for Governor. The railroad men with whom I have talked are for Gardner, notwithstanding the false statements started about him.

While at Mineral Point on the 3d of July I passed by a fine piece of ground where a lot of our Virginia boys attended a picnic 49 years ago, the 4th of July, 1867. We didn't know a single person there. We walked around and looked like a bunch of stray dogs. We could only drink red lemonade and watch the young folks dance. John Bowly, Bob Loving and John Cobb were among our number on the following year, June 14th, 1868. I married one of the girls that was there. I lived near Potosi four years and always enjoy going back. It is a homecoming to me.

I see that Rev. Beals has a new Overland car. He is a good man and deserves the patronage of the public.

J. L. Hickman of Brunot is around with a petition asking county court to call an election to vote on the proposition of bonding the county for road purposes. I am glad he has started this movement. Iron county needs good roads and we expect to have them.

J. H. Stevenson was in St. Louis last week.

O. C. Morris was in Ironton Friday. Mrs. Joe Walton and children have gone to Mineral Point to visit relatives after a visit with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Maddock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Timpe and cousin, Alfred Holmick, from St. Louis, were here last week to spend the 4th with Judge Schmidt and family.

Mrs. Chas. Hickman and daughter, Miss Minnie, were Ironton visitors last week.

Fred Gassman and family spent the 4th at Middlebrook.

Mrs. Frank Steward from St. Louis is visiting her mother, Mrs. Chas. Hickman.

Miss Eunice Morris has returned home from a visit to Piedmont.

Mrs. G. H. Williams and baby from Paragould, Ark., are visiting Mrs. Chas. Williams.

Miss Doris Cooper has gone to St. Louis to visit her sister, Mrs. George Pate.

Miss Frankie Harrison from Graniteville, Mo., is visiting her brother, G. H. Harrison, and family. She has been in school at Springfield, Mo., and stopped here on her way home.

Mrs. O. L. Miller and children from Pine Bluff, Ark., are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Salena Sparks and baby from Piedmont were here last week to visit her sister, Mrs. G. H. Harrison.

Miss Bessie and Grace Martin from St. Louis are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Tom Lovelace.

Mrs. Irvin Davis is visiting relatives at Graniteville and Pilot Knob.

The body of Mrs. Nellie Ruble Buck, daughter of Henry Ruble, was brought here from Taskee last week and buried in the family lot here. The young lady had only been married seven weeks and was suddenly struck down by lightning during an electrical storm while standing near an iron bed in her new home they had just moved into that day. We sympathize deeply with the bereaved loved ones in their dark hour of sorrow. May the Lord bless and comfort them!

On my trip to Greenville last week I was very and indeed to meet there the corpse of my dear old friend, Mrs. Ann Smith. We were friends in my boyhood days, and a noble Christian woman she was. She was always active in christian work and was loved by everybody. She was a visitor in our home not long ago. Little did we think it would be our last visit together. God has called another of his children home and she will be sadly missed by her children and friends, who have our deepest sympathy.

Rev. J. A. Baxter, the new Methodist minister from Purvis, Mississippi, has arrived to take charge here and and Patterson. He is a consecrated man and we believe will do a good work here. His pastorate was good sermons here Sunday and Sunday night to large congregations.

A large crowd, including all the Lewis generation, attended the reunion at the grove near Roberts school house Sunday. A big dinner was served on the grounds and two sermons preached in the morning by Rev. Joel Lewis. This Reunion was given in honor of Grandma Lewis who is getting very old and will not be here much longer. It was a great pleasure to her to meet her children, grandchildren and old friends and to enjoy the services. It would have been a great pleasure to have been present, but as I had to leave on the train at noon I could not be there. But may they all live to enjoy another happy Reunion is the wish of their old friend.
